The third screen is a dark-themed form. It asks for a phone number, with "India" selected as the country. The input field contains "+91" and "Phone number". A note below says "we'll send you a code by SMS to confirm your phone number." A "Next" button is at the bottom right. A small note at the bottom left says "We may occasionally send you service-based messages."The fourth screen is a dark-themed form. It asks for a code with the placeholder "Enter your code". Five empty squares represent the code digits. A note below says "we'll send an SMS with a 6-digit code to +xxxxxxxx". A "Next" button is at the bottom right. A "Resend SMS" link is at the bottom left.The fifth screen is a dark-themed form. It asks for "Email or username" and "Password", both represented by redacted fields. A "Next" button is at the bottom right. A "Log in without password" link is at the bottom left.
